FROST EDITIONS

DAVID FARRER

David Farrer studied printmaking before becoming a sculptor specialising in trophy heads made from papier-mâché. He has appeared on TV and radio, exhibits in London annually and has work in public and private collections.

This virtual exhibition is a collection inspired by recent events and won't cost the earth.

In the words of the artist...

In early 2020, the world went tits-up and exhibitions came down before disappearing in a puff of smoke. We asked ourselves what next, start making sour dough bread, hoard toilet rolls or take up knitting? No, we carried on in the firm conviction that one day, this too shall pass.

'No Stuffin' Turkeys!' is a collection of work made just before and during the pandemic with literally all the time in the world. Exotic locations, crowds & venues temporarily swapped for 'my studio/kitchen/dining room wall' and an intimate private view consisting of me, my wife, our dog and a papier mache penguin.

As we all know, time can't keep a good Penguin (or his friends) down, they are on the march!
From the rural environs of Oxfordshire for you to p-p-p-pick one up!
